

BBC

Children in Need

This year, Children in Need's theme is "Do your thing" so we are going to be getting involved by having a non-school uniform day! On Friday 16th November, we would like the children to come dressed as something they would like to do when they are older - something they aspire to be. They can be footballers, dancers, plumbers, doctors, or even a teacher!

There will be prizes for the children who give the best explanation for their outfit, so think carefully about what you want to be!

